

Med Aduh

Software Engineer | Backend-leaning full-stack systems and product delivery

Davao City, Philippines / Remote • im.ramidem@gmail.com • GitHub

---

EXPERIENCE

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| SymphSoftware Engineer                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | RemoteNov 2020 - Present                                            |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Shipped client and product engineering across NDA platforms using full-stack and AI-assisted workflows across React, TypeScript, Next.js, NestJS, Firebase, Strapi, MySQL/PostgreSQL, and Google Cloud.</li></ul> |                                                                                |
| Healthcare Forms CompanionAI Product Engineer                                                                                                                                                                                                | Healthcare forms and PDF workflow platformJun 2026                  |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Shipped patient/admin form workflows with authenticated PDF previews, editable fields, invite flows, and duplicate-save protections.</li></ul>                                                                    |                                                                                |
| Distributor Operations PlatformAI Product Engineer                                                                                                                                                                                           | Distributor operations and export workflowsMay 2026 - Jun 2026      |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Built AI-assisted operations workflows for account management, distributor reports, sales activity, purchase orders, consignment, exports, and admin controls.</li></ul>                                          |                                                                                |
| HRIS / Payroll PlatformAI Product Engineer                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Employee operations, payroll, and RBAC workflowsFeb 2026 - Jun 2026 |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Built AI-assisted HRIS/payroll workflows across employee records, time tracking, leave approvals, payroll, RBAC, documentation, reports, and audit trails.</li></ul>                                              |                                                                                |
| Financial Services Operations PlatformSoftware Engineer                                                                                                                                                                                      | Financial operations and reporting workflowsJan 2021 - Nov 2025     |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Maintained KYC, remittance, ShopSafe, vault, reporting, receipt, and checkout workflows across React, Node/NestJS, MySQL, and stored procedures.</li></ul>                                                        |                                                                                |
| CMS / Marketplace Admin PlatformProject Lead / Software Engineer                                                                                                                                                                             | CMS and marketplace operations platformJan 2025 - May 2025          |
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Led Strapi 5 CMS work for content, marketplace pages, opportunity settings, custom admin plugins, verification workflows, and TypeScript API integrations.</li></ul>                                              |                                                                                |

---

SKILLS & INTERESTS

Languages and frontend: TypeScript, JavaScript, SQL, React, Next.js

Backend, cloud, and data: Node.js, NestJS, Firebase, Google Cloud, MySQL, PostgreSQL, Drizzle ORM, Strapi

Product engineering: RBAC/CASL, forms and PDF workflows, reporting, exports, automation, testing